McNair presented Distinguished Patriot Award

NASHVILLE – Baltimore Ravens and former Tennessee Titans quarterback Steve McNair was recently presented the Adjutants General Distinguished Patriot Award for his continued support of the Tennessee National Guard.

“Steve has always been a great supporter of the military and especially the Tennessee Army National Guard,” said Tennessee’s Adjutant General, Major General Gus Hargett. “This is an opportunity for us to express our appreciation to a great Tennessean who has been an inspiration to our Soldiers, Airmen, and all Tennesseans.”

The award was presented by Brig. Gen. David Greer, Assistant Adjutant General-Army. McNair was also presented a commemorative saber from Col. Jeff Holmes, Commander of the 278th Armored Cavalry Regiment, and several Tennessee Army National Guard mementos by Lt. Col. Steve Hensley, Recruiting and Retention Commander.
